

Friends of Redington Pass is leading a COLLABORATIVE AREA MANAGEMENT PLAN (CAMP) process for the Redington Pass area. CAMP is engaging all interested stakeholder groups and individuals. CAMP will include recommendations to the USFS Coronado National Forest for managing the future of the Pass.

What happened after April 2014 Meeting ?

What FRP has done

- ✓ We posted meeting notes
- ✓ We compiled information in GIS mapping data base
- ✓ We sought more input at user group meetings and via website
- ✓ We organized to assemble CAMP working groups in the Fall

What YOU have been doing

- ✓ Rediscovered Redington Pass
- ✓ Got on FRP's email list
- ✓ Became FRP members
- ✓ Provided input to CAMP
- ✓ Invited FRP to your meetings
- ✓ Shared comments, questions and concerns with FRP

What People Appreciate about Redington Pass

- Its Rural Backcountry Landscape
- Its Crossroads Location
- Its Lasting Quality
- Its Open Accessibility
- Its Road and Trail Network
- Its Rugged Outback Nature
- Its Our Pass

FRIENDS
OF Redington
Pass

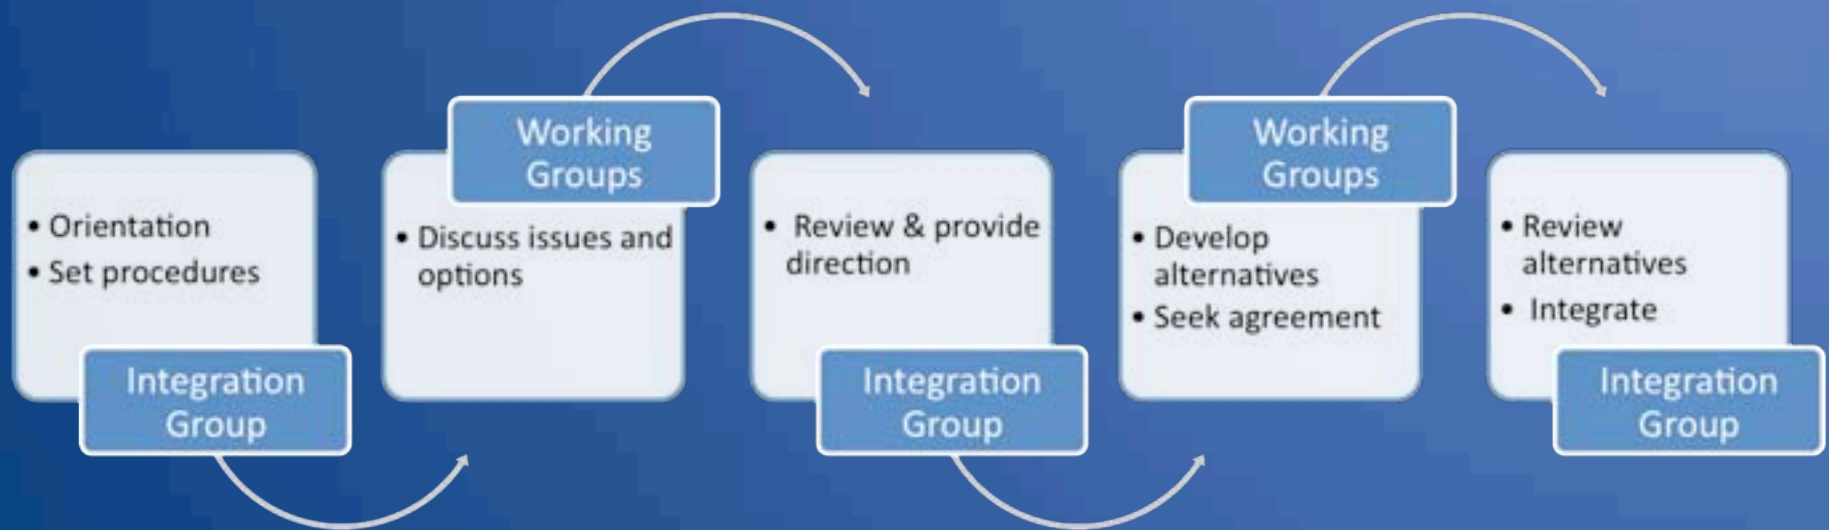

List of Issues for Redington Pass

- Managing recreational target shooting
- Improving access to roads and trails while maintaining backcountry landscape
- Handling overuse and misuse at specific sites
- Managing conflicts with others behavior

CAMP Working Groups

- Integration Group
- Issue Groups
 - Recreational target shooting
 - Access to roads and trails for all users
 - Overuse and misuse at specific sites
 - Conflicts with other visitors' behavior

CAMP Working Groups

JanuaryFebruaryMarch April

CAMP Timeline

Spring – Fall 2014

Seek stakeholder and public input on conditions and concerns

Fall 2014 – Winter 2015

Discuss different management approaches and seek feedback

Winter –Spring 2015

Draft proposed management approaches
Check in at 3rd Community Meeting

Summer 2015

Engage community in public review

Fall 2015

Convey proposal to CNF for their review

How can people get involved in CAMP?

- FRP board representation
- FRP website and email for information and for input
- Meetings with individual groups
- Open community meetings
- CAMP working groups to develop and discuss management approaches

Volunteering for Working Groups

- The deadline for self-nominations – November 30
- Selection process – FRP board will review and select participants based on:
 - Groups no more than 12
 - Balanced across interests
 - Familiarity with Pass
 - Commitment to meet 3 times January - March 2015
 - Connected with organization or user networks